But if the war is fought to an end, it might well be that the United States would find itself with the strongest navy in the world.

Mr. Norris admitted that the adoption of a larger defence programme a year ago might have made Germany listen more attentively to the earlier communications of the American government, but added that more probably it would have influenced the United States and made it push matters closer to a warlike declaration.

"Ex-Consul Dr. Goericar, formerly at San Francisco, has been on leave of absence since the time of the outbreak of the war, and has been temporarily attached for a time to the Austro-Hungarian Consulate General in Berlin, Germany.

"Three, very soon afterward, he obtained knowledge that the Austro-Hungarian authorities had received information about his secret connections with the enemies of Austria-Hungary, and evidently fearing detection, he suddenly left his post without permission, and disappeared. Later on it was learned that he had gone to Italy and was staying in Rome, from where he tendered his resignation, thereby preventing his dismissal.

"While he was in Rome it was ascertained that he was in close relation with Russian and Serbian agents, obviously with the purpose of going to the Unified States to use his knowledge of the centres of Slavic immigration coming from the monarchy in the service of the Pan-Slavic propaganda, and with the intent of disseminating disloyalty among our immigrants against their country of birth.

"The Austro-Hungarian Embassy has been informed that quite a number of southern Slavs from the monarchy have been enlisted by the agents of the Allies, and have left this country to fight against the Austro-Hungarian army. It is very probable that Dr. Goricar's subversive activity contributed to the very regrettable acts of treason, which, certainly without changing the outcome of the war, will be of the gravest consequence for those who may be made prisoners of war.

"The Austro-Hungarian Embassy was informed several months ago of Dr. Goricar's agitatory propaganda carried on in this country, but it has refrained until now from taking counter measures, being aware of the disgrace brought about by the fact that a former consular officer had broken in such a manner the faith and allegiance to his fatherland.

"In view, however, of his statements to the press, which contain the strongest accusations against the representatives of Austria-Hungary, the embassy must emphatically declare these accusations as false and absolutely baseless."

Giulia Morosini Werner is the defendant in a new suit for $10,000 begun yesterday by Arthur M. Werner, the former policeman, based on an alleged agreement under which he was to receive that sum from his wife annually for remaining off the police force.

A like suit is now pending, Werner alleging non-payment of installments which became Lue before April 15, 1914. Mrs. Werner, who is separated from her husband, has declared that she signed the agreement believing he could go back on the force if he saw fit.

Frank H. Simonds

Author of "The Great War"

In to-morrow's Tribune Frank H. Simonds tells how the same sort of campaign of attrition that won for Grant is being used against the Kaiser.

It is a clear and comprehensive exposition of the arguments which form the basis of Allied expectations that the war is approaching a turn. It shows the appalling butcher's bill the warring nations must pay-and how it will be harder for Germany to make the payment.

If you are not getting these masterly reviews of the war that appear every Sunday the fault is your own. A word to your newsdealer will reserve a copy for you.
